

Annual Dialysis Conference

presented by the University of Missouri Division of Nephrology

ADC TECHNICIAN PROGRAM • Saturday, January 31, 2015

The Annual Dialysis Conference will be held Saturday, January 31 through Tuesday, February 3, 2015 at the Ernest N. Morial Convention Center in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Dialysis Technicians comprise a major portion of the workforce in dialysis facilities. They are essential members of the interdisciplinary team who interact with other healthcare providers and patients. This program is designed for dialysis technicians and other healthcare providers who participate in providing care for patients on dialysis therapy.

Program Objectives:

- Review the appropriate roles of the technician working in a dialysis facility.
- Describe current trends and major clinical areas of practice that are most affected by the dialysis technician.
- Discuss the impact of the technician's job performance on patient care outcomes.
